On the "grind line" nickname:

"It was a group decision. Two years ago Cole Bardreau and I played with Zac Laraza on the U.S. NTDP Under-18 Team and we had the "grind line." It's now carried over here, except we've added Ryan Hartman. I was a Red Wings fan growing up so it's from there too."

On Bardreau's U.S. Player of the Game:

"It was a great effort from all three of us to get that plate. Hartman and I haven't decided what we're going to do with it yet, if we're going to cut it up or destroy the evidence. It's an honor to win a plate like that. All three of us went into getting that. It's not often that happens, but when it does it's nice and it compliments all three of us."

On his hunting past time:

"The most interesting place I've been is probably South Dakota. I went pheasant hunting and had some success. I went with about 10 of my family members during a Thanksgiving weekend."

On his dad attending this tournament:

"It means a lot to me. It's about an eight and a half hour drive from home to Michigan Tech to see me and my brother, Chad, and he's probably only missed one home weekend this year. When I was with the U.S. NTDP he probably made all the trips overseas to Slovakia, Sweden, Germany and the Czech Republic."

On the number of people in his family:

"To be honest I don't know how many first cousins I have. My dad has nine brothers and one sister. And my mom has one brother and four sisters. I must have 100 cousins between the two families and I do know them all. Hockey-wise, my cousin, Aaron, my brother and I have made it the farthest, but a lot have played hockey. We've had some good family hockey games."

On playing on a line with his brother at MTU:

"My mom likes it, but it didn't go well."

On his last name pronunciation:

"It's Finnish. Lower Peninsula, we say puh-TILL-uh. Upper Peninsula, they call it PEE-till-uh. And pee-ET-uh-luh gets in there too."
