I really wanted to do this in person and I apologize for not doing so. There is no longer a Coaching Director position. This is the position I felt I could give my heart to. The position has been filled by the new committee and the Ace coordinator that was voted on tonight. If you look in the hand book under Coaching Director and then glance at the new job duties of the new committee. It makes me wonder as a board how we can let private meetings take place and political bull can happen. Funny no one has heard the word political bull from me. The new committee oversees and coordinates tryouts. I tried to use 3 people from that committee for evaluators at the beginning of this year's evaluations and I was told "The board will have egg on their face" so I went out and got people that were from different associations. One of the committee members left us hanging during tryouts and went fishing. It was presented that we want to develop like the big associations; I brought up coaches pick last meeting and got mutilated by comments "my kid this; my kid that". Don't get me wrong; I do respect every person on this committee as friend and hockey associate.

I don't have to think this over; I have a lot to offer PYHA, but I am going to be a hockey parent that is going to watch my kids from the stands. Thanks all it's been a great experience.
