Green White Youth Soccer Club Hires Eastern Illinois University Soccer Coach Adam Howarth as Director of Coaching

Division I coach brings wealth of experience to prominent heritage Mt. Prospect soccer club

MT. PROSPECT (May 12, 2014) – When Green White Soccer Club, a fixture in the Chicagoland soccer community for nearly sixty years, announced they were in the market for a Director of Coaching, Eastern Illinois Varsity Soccer Coach Adam Howarth jumped at the chance to be part of such a well-respected heritage soccer club.

"Green White Youth Soccer has experienced tremendous growth." says Norm Schneider, Board President of Green White Youth Soccer, "Hiring a director of coaching enables our organization to raise the bar on providing top notch soccer training while continuing to offer one of the most affordable travel soccer programs in the Northwest suburbs. Adam's experience with the Olympic Development Program and youth soccer at all age groups will move our training program to new heights."

As the Head Men's Soccer Coach at Eastern Illinois University, Howarth prided himself in turning out players that were not just good at soccer (All-Americans, and All-Conference)—they were outstanding young men (Academic All-Americans). In the 2013 Spring season, his team had a combined 3.29 GPA, the highest in the fifty year history of the program.

But Horwath is not just a college coach. In his career he has coached every age group from Pre-K boys and girls (he created the curriculum for EIFC pre-academy) through high school (he was the varsity coach at St. Anthony High School in Effingham). He has run countless camps and programs.

And he's thrilled to be with Green White Soccer Club: "I want to thank the Green White board for giving me this opportunity. What stood out for me, through the process, was the commitment and support that the club has to its members. Green White is a great club with tradition and high aspirations. I am excited to get started with our annual tryouts on May 27 & May 28 at Metro Majewski Park."

###

Green White Soccer Club was founded in Chicago in 1956. Since 1982, they have provided Mt. Prospect with soccer programs for kids from 5 to 50. Green White's travel soccer program is considered the best value in the Northwestern suburbs. They also field a recreational Girls soccer league, and men's soccer teams (including teams for Over-30 and Over-40 players).
