

Parent Code of Conduct

I realize that my actions and decisions will either support or undermine good sportsmanship. I pledge to follow the Parent Code of Conduct in pursuit of practicing better sportsmanship.

- I will maintain respect for the game of soccer
- I will act as a positive role model by showing support for the alliance of players, coaches, referees and parents
- I will never place the value of winning over the fun and safety of the players
- I will teach my child to practice better sportsmanship
- I will not complain about or criticize the referees
- I will support the commitment that the coaches and referees have made to the players and the game
- I will support the coach's expectations of good sportsmanship and understand there are consequences of poor sportsmanship
- I will strive to create a positive environment for everyone involved, encouraging others to respect the game
- I will remember the game is played for the fun and benefit of youth

Practicing good sportsmanship is an individual act that has an impact beyond one person. Achieving good sportsmanship requires individual acts by all those involved in the competition: players, coaches, parents and referees. Parents must not only model good sportsmanship during the match, but before and after the game, support their child by releasing them to the game. Thank you for your pledge to practice better sportsmanship.
