

NORCO Summer Camps a Success

NORCO is very proud to wrap up another successful summer camp series with over 500 girls attending clinics this year. We want to thank everyone who attended and gave everything they had to improving their skills. Players were exposed to a number of high level coaches and athletes this summer. Collegiate coaches Tom Hilbert (CSU), Mark Rosen (Michigan) and Christy Johnson-Lynch (Iowa State) held a great camp series in June. USA Youth National Team Coach and NORCO 16 Black Head Coach Jim Stone conducted an all skills camp in June.

Three-time Olympians Heather Bown and Stacy Sykora also shared their wealth of experience and knowledge in two separate camps. NORCO Head Coaches Sam Peters (17 Black), John Critzer (15 Black), Kate Hampson (15 Blue), Glenn Sapp (14 Black) and Amber Ortner (14 Blue) as well as CSU players Jaime Colazzi and Dri Culbert led camps.

This summer NORCO welcomed many new faces into the gym, Cynde Light included.

Cynde is 50 years old, but her age was no barrier on the court, she came to NORCO looking to learn and better her game.

Throughout the summer she has attended multiple camps and clinics and was not afraid to go through our Three-Day Collegiate Camp

Series. Cydne proved that hard work and determination, no matter what age, pays off; we were happy to have such an eager learner in the gym!
