

Fairy College Mother

Once Upon A Time in a small kingdom called Amherst lived a princess named Kelsey who would soon go off to college. She chose to study Education and wanted to become a great teacher one day. She realized that she would have to take on more responsibilities and show the King and Queen she could be independent. She decided that the country Bowling Green State University would be the best choice for her because of their wonderful teaching program. Little did she know the next four years of her life would take place in a far away island called Ashland. At that time she had never heard of this place before, but that would soon change in what seemed like a blink of an eye.

The princess was gazing out her bedroom window one afternoon day dreaming about her future away at college. After a few minutes she turned away from the window and when she did she saw a lady sitting at her vanity with a beautiful crown and a magnificent wand.

She got startled and immediately said, "Who are you?!"

The lady smiled at her and said, "Well sweetie, believe it or not, I am your Fairy College Mother. I am going to help you find where you truly belong in the next stage of your life."

As she talked the princess knew how smart and wise this woman was. She did not know why she appeared or if she was real, but she was ready to find out. The Fairy College Mother explained how she traveled around the world guiding teenagers through the process of going away to college. The only place the princess had considered attending school at was Bowling Green because she had no knowledge of any other places.

The Fairy College Mother said, "The country of Bowling Green is a great school but I am here to help you see what other options you might have. I want you to get the best experience possible and the best education available to you. I will also be there to help the King and Queen through the financial process and help you earn money through scholarships." The princess could not believe what she was hearing.

With an excitement in her eyes she replied, “This is amazing Fairy College Mother, let’s get started!”

A couple months later the Fairy College Mother helped the princess discover Ashland, a beautiful island. Once the princess saw this place she knew that she belonged there. With the help of her Fairy College Mother she got accepted to Ashland, and would also earn scholarships to put towards her education.

“You have done so much for me Fairy College Mother. I would have never found my dream college or learned so much about what I can put into my education if it were not for you. I never knew how helpful scholarships could be until you came along. Thank you for everything,” said the Princess.

The Fairy College Mother smiled and replied, “You are welcome Kelsey. I am willing to help anyone that sees the importance of their education and future. I will be here to help you with anything you need assistance with. It only takes a quick twirl of my wand and I am right there by your side.”

The princess would soon go off to college prepared to start the new chapter in her life. The Fairy College Mother would continue to use her gift and help other teenagers choose their right college. They would both go on with life fulfilling their dreams, living happily ever after....
