DCSAA ANNOUNCES INAUGURAL CLASS FOR INDUCTION TO THE DCSAA HIGH SCHOOL HALL OF FAME

WASHINGTON, D.C. – The District of Columbia State Athletic Association has announced the inaugural class that will be inducted into the DCSAA High School Hall of Fame. These 10 men and women have made remarkable contributions to scholastic and amateur sports in Washington. The DCSAA is proud to honor these individuals for their accomplishments.

- Elgin Baylor: Legendary player named one of the 50 greatest players in NBA history
- Allen Chin: Longtime high school sports administrator, first at his alma mater, Anacostia High, and subsequently as DCPS/DCIAA director of athletics
- Mason Clark: More than half century of service to youth sports; co-founder of Pioneer Athletic Club, today known as Woodridge Warriors
- Maurice “Maus” Collins: Retired as the ninth-winningest high school football coach, with record of 322-74-9 and 16 league titles over 39 seasons at Carroll and Gonzaga
- Adrian Dixon: Longtime Cardozo track and field coach. Lettered in football, basketball and track and field and was captain of the golf team at Cardozo
- Al Forman: Made his mark as an official, serving as Eastern Board of Officials commissioner for more than 20 years
- Bob Headen: One of Washington’s most successful coaches in football (eight DCPS titles) and girls basketball (17 DCPS titles)
- Lucille Hester: One of the biggest advocates for Washington youth and amateur sports; longtime DCPS middle school athletic director
- Butch McAdams: Coached the Maret boys basketball team to 449 wins over 29 seasons and is known today as host of the Butch McAdams Show on WOL radio
- Wanda Oates: Best known for coaching the Ballou boys basketball team to 1991 DCIAA championships; guided the Ballou girls basketball team to 10 DCIAA titles in 13 seasons

“What an incredible group of men and women,” DCSAA Executive Director Clark Ray said. “These individuals have given so much of themselves to developing our city’s student-athletes. We are proud to celebrate their achievements and accomplishments and creating this lasting testament to their hard work.”

The inductees will be honored at an induction ceremony on Thursday, June 8 at the DC Office of Cable, Television, Film, Music and Entertainment.
