Join us in welcoming professional power-skating instructor John Gould to Breezy Point for 5 weeks of spring drop in power-skating sessions. Each 60 minute clinic is 10.00 dollars and open to both male and female hockey players of all ages and skill levels. John has been coaching hockey at the high school and junior levels for 13 years, the last several years spent primarily focused on power-skating, edge work and agility. John's clients range from the mite level to professional both in the United States and Canada.
