Ironman 70.3 Shanghai
18/10/2020 Sunday
Travel Package
IRONMAN 70.3 Shanghai will be held on October 18th, 2020.

Chongming Island is the third largest island in China. As the largest alluvial island at the estuary of a river and the largest sand island in the world, Chongming Island is also acclaimed as the “Door to the Yangtze River, Yingzhou Island (a celestial mountain in fairy tales of ancient China) in the East China Sea.” The landscape is flat and fertile, the forests are flourishing, the resources are abundant. Chongming Island is known as “the land of fish and rice”. All the sights on the island were never carved, decorated, but formed naturally. In the early morning, you can climb up to the east side of the dam, to enjoy the soft sunrise. At dusk, you can stand at the west of the dam, to immerse in the breathtaking sunset.

Mingzhu Lake Park, where IRONMAN village/swim course/run course, is the largest inland lake on the island. It is a beautiful destination with lush green vegetation and wide open spaces. Set far from urban Shanghai, Mingzhu Lake Park and Chongming Island can seem a world away from the hustle and bustle of everyday life. This is a great place to find some tranquility and respite from the world outside.

Furthermore, there are various fresh fruits in season, Chongming crabs, Chongming cake and Chongming fish that look like a knife. All these delicious foods are hard to miss!
Chongming Island is surrounded by rivers and sea, with typical marine climate type. The flat landscape created the optimal conditions for athletes. 3 loops of run course will be inside of Mingzhu lake park, spectators will be cheering for athletes.

The 2020 IRONMAN 70.3 Shanghai will offer 50 qualifying slots to the 2021 IRONMAN 70.3 World Championship in St. George, Utah USA.

The 2020 IRONMAN 70.3 Shanghai will offer 25 qualifying slots to the 2021 IRONMAN World Championship in Kailua-Kona, Hawai‘i.
