Welcome to the 36th Annual All-Star Classic. The WBCA is proud to sponsor this tournament, to promote baseball throughout out the Badger State, and to be recognized as one of the strongest Coaching Associations in America.

The first All-Star Classic took place in Appleton in 1984, with Milwaukee Tech's Tom Konowalski chairing the Committee. Representing the West was Cumberland's Mark Fuller, who is the only original remaining member of that Committee, along with Xavier's Tom Nygaard and Art Westphal from Waterloo. Today, Oshkosh West's Tony Gerharz chairs the Committee, with Fuller as the West's representative, Potosi's Ron Kading representing the South, Waukesha West's Chad Montez representing the East Team, and Eric Beard from Wrightstown, representing the North.

Joe Waite, who just retired after 33 years of teaching but continues to be the head coach at Cumberland, designs, coordinates, and completely puts this program togther by himself in less than two weeks during which time he rarely sleeps. Most of the players and/or parents had contact with him throughout this process! This was his 31st program. He got invaluable help this year from retired Howards Grove coach, Mark Weber who designed several ad portions for several players. He is very talented and very much appreciated.

For a player to be selected, his head coach has to be members of the Wisconsin Baseball Coaches Association and they have to be nominated and recommended by their coach. From there, the arduous task of picking a team of 18 players falls upon Montez, Beard, Kading, and Fuller.

The players chosen to be here were not only recommended because of their athletic talent but also because of their character. They represent the best the State has to offer.

Some of the young men that play this weekend will be moving on to collegiate baseball next fall while for others, the Classic may be their last chance to play baseball at a very high level. Either way, it is a great experience that all of them will remember for the rest of their lives.

To the players, family and friends, we hope you have a great and memorable weekend!

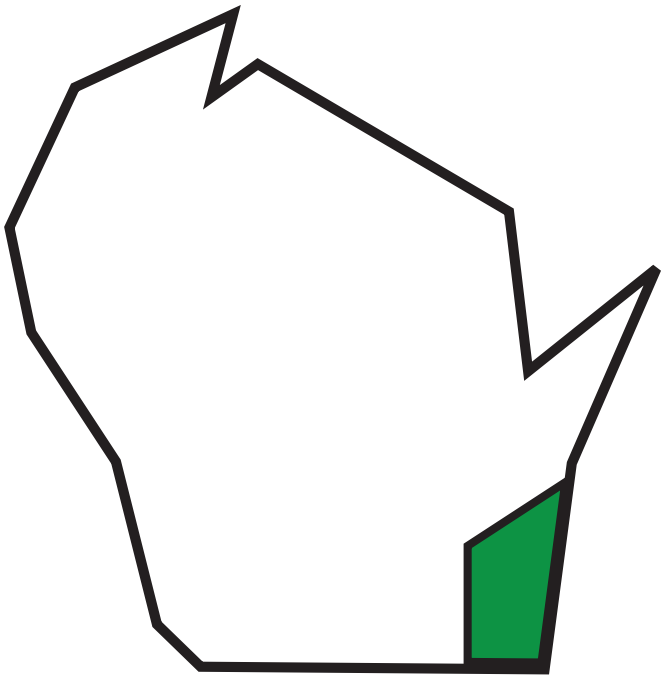
For a player to be selected to play in the Wisconsin Baseball Coaches Association All-Star Classic, his coach must be a member of the WBCA. Coaches who are not members of the WBCA are not eligible to have their players selected to play. Each player must accept the invitation to play in the Classic once they are chosen.

EAST COACHES



JEFF BIGLER is one of the most well known coaches in southeastern Wisconsin, and for good reason. Jeff has been a head coach for the past 23 seasons, 19 of the last at Brookfield Central. He was at Whitnall all the four years previous to that. Coaching in the summer season and now in the spring season, he has accumulated a won- loss record of 470 -341, ranking him first amongst coaches who have spent the majority of their careers coaching in the summer season. During his time at Brookfield Central, his teams have won for greater metro conference championships and won state summer championship.

Tim Gotzler is the head coach at Menomonee Falls High School. 2021 was Gotzler's first season as head coach after the previous ten years at his alma mater, Catholic Memorial. In his first season, the Phoenix qualified for the Division 1 State Tournament, the first state appearance of Gotzler's coaching career. His career record is 187-118 and has been named conference coach of the year in 2017,2019 and 2021.

He is the host of the "Baseball Wisconsin Podcast with Tim Gotzler" the official podcast of the WBCA. He also serves as a district representative in the Metro District. He is a social studies teacher at Menomonee Falls High School. He resides in Menomonee Falls with his wife April and daughters Quinn and Ainsley.

TIM MIELKE has been the head coach at Shoreland Lutheran in Somers, which is in the state's deepest south east corner. for the past 16 years and on the staff there and for the past 18 years overall.

He has served as the conference rep for the greater metro conference for the past six years and has been tireless in his efforts to promote not only his program, but baseball at the state level in general. Very much respected by every coach in the coaching fraternity, his teams have won two conference championships, two regional championships and he will be coaching in his second All-Star classic with his previous appearance happening in 2012.

THE HISTORY OF THE ALL-STAR CLASSIC

BY MARK FULLER

This year marks the 35th Annual Event of the WBCA's All-Star Classic.

The history of Wisconsin's All-Star Classic begins in a room at the Hyatt Regency in Milwaukee on a Friday in February of 1982, when four men answered the call to discuss the possibility of a State All-Star Series to showcase the graduating seniors of our State. Art Westphal of Waterloo, Tom Nygaard of Appleton Xavier, Tom Konowakski of Milwaukee Tech, and Mark Fuller of Cumberland attended that first meeting.

The group would continue to meet over the next two years, before coming up with the format that would still be in effect today. The first Classic was finally set for Goodland Field in Appleton August 17 and 18 of 1984. Only Fuller remains from that original group, having been with the Tournament since its inception.

Among the first coaches were eventual Wisconsin Hall of Famers Bruce Erickson of Appleton West, Arlyn Colby of Barron, John Ball of New Richmond, Greg Wendorf of Stevens Point Pacelli, Dan Madden of Janesville Parker, and Tim O'Driscoll of Hartland Arrowhead.

Among the first years players, Terry Jorgenson of Luxemberg Casco, would be the first alumnus to eventually play in the Major Leagues, with the Minnesota Twins. Jorgenson was the hitting star and MVP of the first Classic, knocking out a double and two triples among his five weekend hits.

Joe Randa (Royals), George Williams (A's), Jordan Zimmerman (Nationals), Bob Wickman (Yankees), JT Bruett (Twins) Jarrod Washburn (Angels), Scott Servais (Astros), Lance Painter (Rockies), and Paul Wagner (Pirates) would be just some of the other future Classic participants who would follow Jorgenson into Major League Baseball. Current Colorado Rockies General Manager, Jeff Bridich, also played in the Classic as well.

Also in that initial season, a group of 18 of the 72 Classic participants were chosen to play a group of 18 seniors from Minnesota at Parade Stadium in St. Paul the following weekend. With the difficulties of the logistics of such an event, the follow-up meeting with Minnesota would only take place that first year. Wisconsin won the doubleheader that Saturday afternoon, however, to retain permanent bragging rights.

The only other time a follow-up to the Classic was held was in July of 1986. Called the "Great Lakes Invitational," seniors from California, Illinois, and Indiana were chosen to join 18 Wisconsin players chosen from our All-Star games back in June. It would be played at Milwaukee's County Stadium in a round robin Tournament.

Coached by Arlyn Colby, Tom Nygaard, and Mark Fuller, the team would defeat Illinois, lost to California 2-1, and eventually drop a decision to Indiana, who would go undefeated in winning the Invitational. Eventual Major Leaguers Bob Hamlin from California (Royals) and Eric Wedge from Indiana (Red Sox) were part of those games. Troy Buckley from California also played at County Stadium and is currently the Head Coach at Division I Long Beach State.

The games have been played in Appleton, Madison, Milwaukee, Eau Claire, and Oshkosh. The WBCA committee has weighed the pluses and minuses of moving the games around to having a more permanent site. Oshkosh has taken over the current home of the Classic with great results.

The games are paid for entirely through the advertisements secured by our players. Pukka Caps out of Ohio provides the caps for the players, while some of the money raised by the participants goes back into college scholarships. This weekend, the WBCA will give over $3,000.00 back in Scholarship money to some of our State seniors.

The games have grown into a must see event, which shows off the immense talent of Wisconsin baseball players. Great pitching, outstanding hitting, and solid defense have shown why Wisconsin is a hidden gem in US baseball.

THE STATE OF THE ASSOCIATION

JOHN HAMILTON, HEAD COACH, WESTBY HIGH SCHOOL, PRESIDENT, WBCA

Welcome to the 2021 edition of Baseball Wisconsin and the 2021 season! To begin, I would like to thank outgoing president, Scott Holler, for his commitment and outstanding leadership of the WBCA. Coach Holler has and continues to work tirelessly for the betterment of baseball in Wisconsin, as well as the WBCA.

As you read this, I am hopeful that each of you are off to a great start to your season. 2021 brings much hope and anticipation for all of us: the hope for health, happiness, a little normalcy, and baseball. I am certain that all of you join me in the excitement of being able to get back on the diamond and doing what we love and we make a difference in the lives of the young men we teach through baseball.

No one could have ever imagined or prepared us for what the last twelve months delivered us. We, as a sport, had already seen some big changes that were successful. The implementing of the pitch count rule protected young arms. Then we transitioned from a spring and a summer season into a single baseball season.

Pretty big changes, especially for the routine ways of a baseball coach, right?

Then 2020 came along. A lost season, virtual coaching, virtual clinics, lockdowns, quarentines, social distancing, Zoom meetings, masks, and other life changers just to name a few. Yet we're still here and for that I commend you. I am humbled and inspired by the dedication, passion, and perseverance that all of you have demonstrated to get through the adversity of 2020. As we were all pushed into uncharted waters, we found a way. We found a way to continue to build our programs. We found a way to provide our players with opportunities to better themselves as players and as young men. We found a way to continue to make connections and build relationships with our student-athletes. We found a way to continue to improve ourselves through virtual clinics, talking with colleagues, and more. We found a way to continue to make a difference. The challenges have been great, and more, certainly, lie ahead. Despite these challenges, the character, integrity, and leadership that each of you have shown will allow us to continue to find a way.

Despite the many obstacles a pandemic brings with it, the WBCA is as strong and steadfast as ever. Our first ever virtual clinic was outstanding. Mark Fuller orchestrated an absolutely incredible clinic for us. He put together an amazing lineup of speakers. Our annual clinic continues to be one of the very best. Joe Waite, along with the help of Chris Lavold, has put out another outstanding edition of Baseball Wisconsin. Joe, thank you for your commitment and dedication. The time and work required is unfathomable, yet every year we are blessed with an amazing book that celebrates baseball in our wonderful state. With the work of Tong Gerharz, plans are in place for the annual WBCA All Star Classic in July. The WBCA website, baseballwisconsin.com continues to serve as an excellent resource for our members. You will also see an expanded social media presence through Twitter, as we continue to find ways to share and promote the great things happening in baseball in Wisconsin. I hope that you have been fortunate enough to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities the WBCA offers its members. If you are not a member of the Association, I encourage you to become one. We have an incredible organization that offers so many benefits to you as a coach, your kids, as well as kids throughout the state. Plus, we are the voice of baseball and the best advocate for high school baseball. Our strength is in the passion and numbers of our members.

There are many things that we can take away from the past year. If nothing else, 2020 has reminded me how precious the things are that are most important to me. My family. My friends. My passions. Baseball is definitely a passion we all share. The past twelve months have forced us to grow together, as coaches and as people. More than ever we needed to lean on each other for ideas, support, encouragement. I know I realized how lucky I am to have each of you. Our lives are often defined by the relationships we have. Baseball has graced me with the opportunity to build so many incredible relationships. They have helped shape me into the coach, and person I am today. I am honored to serve as your WBCA President for the next two years. Thank you for this opportunity.

There is a saying that reads " The Best View Comes After the Hardest Climb". Keep pushing forward, keep doing the hard work, keep making a difference, keep climbing!

Best of luck to everyone this year!

THANK YOU CLASSIC UMPIRES!
