Thirty-two Players from 16 countries plan to step onto the field for the NASL's LEGENDS GAME. Ten of them ex-Dallas Tornados: Brazilian international Zequinha, Rudy Pena, Billy Phillips, Bobby Moffat, U.S. Olympian Federico Garcia, Jan Book, Chris Bachofner, Finish International Kai Haaskivi, Steve Pecher and Kyle Rote Jnr., the last two U.S. Internationals. Plus Tatu, who played for Tampa, and twenty other veterans from across the globe who still have a passion for the game.

Among those ex-Tornado players attending but not playing are Kenny Cooper, Roy Turner, Neil Cohen, Dick Hall and Pepe Dill. Also attending are ex-Tornado coaches Ron Newman and Al Miller, and ex-Tampa Bay coach Gordon Jago. And we have invited Pele, whose health is said to be on the mend.

The officials for the game, many from the Dallas – Ft. Worth area, are: Ed Bellion, Gino Dippoloto, John Pozadides, Colby Jones, Heinz Wolferath, Romi Ogbelu, Manny Ortiz Snr, and Manny Ortiz Jnr.

The LEGENDS GAME is one of three events planned to celebrate the NASL's 50th Anniversary, which is being held alongside but separate from the re-opening of the National Soccer Hall of Fame, this year's inductions and Imagine Dragons concert, 10/20. A SASH (The Soccer Writers of America) Conference, 10/20-21 is also being held at Toyota Stadium.
