New York Flair At Frozen Four

There was plenty of New York flair at the 2024 Frozen Four as three of the four competing teams featured local talent on their rosters. Boston University led the way with six N.Y. players, including the McCarthy brothers (Gavin and Case) of Clarence Center. The Boston College Eagles featured four local players, including Pearl River's Drew Fortescue, who was a member of the gold-medal winning U.S. National Junior Team. Marshall Warren of Laurel Hollow was the lone N.Y. representative of the University of Michigan Wolverines. The University of Denver, which won its record-setting 10th national title, had no local players on its roster.
