

GAME SCENARIO – You Create the Play!

Successful players have the ability to find a variety of positive solutions for any given moment in the game. Solutions may include individual flare but should not be limited to technical brilliance alone as it is often the tactical decision that is key to our success.

Our visual GAME MOMENT SCENARIO series challenges our player's tactical decision making as if they were in the game.

In this week's Game Scenario you create the solutions as we continue to break down concepts for attacking - WE have the ball. Please pick one of the offered GAME MOMENTS: Scenario A, B or C and then create your play on the answer sheet or a blank piece of paper.

Diagram Key:

Dashed Arrows = Player Movements

Direct Arrows = Pass or Ball Movements

SCENARIO - A

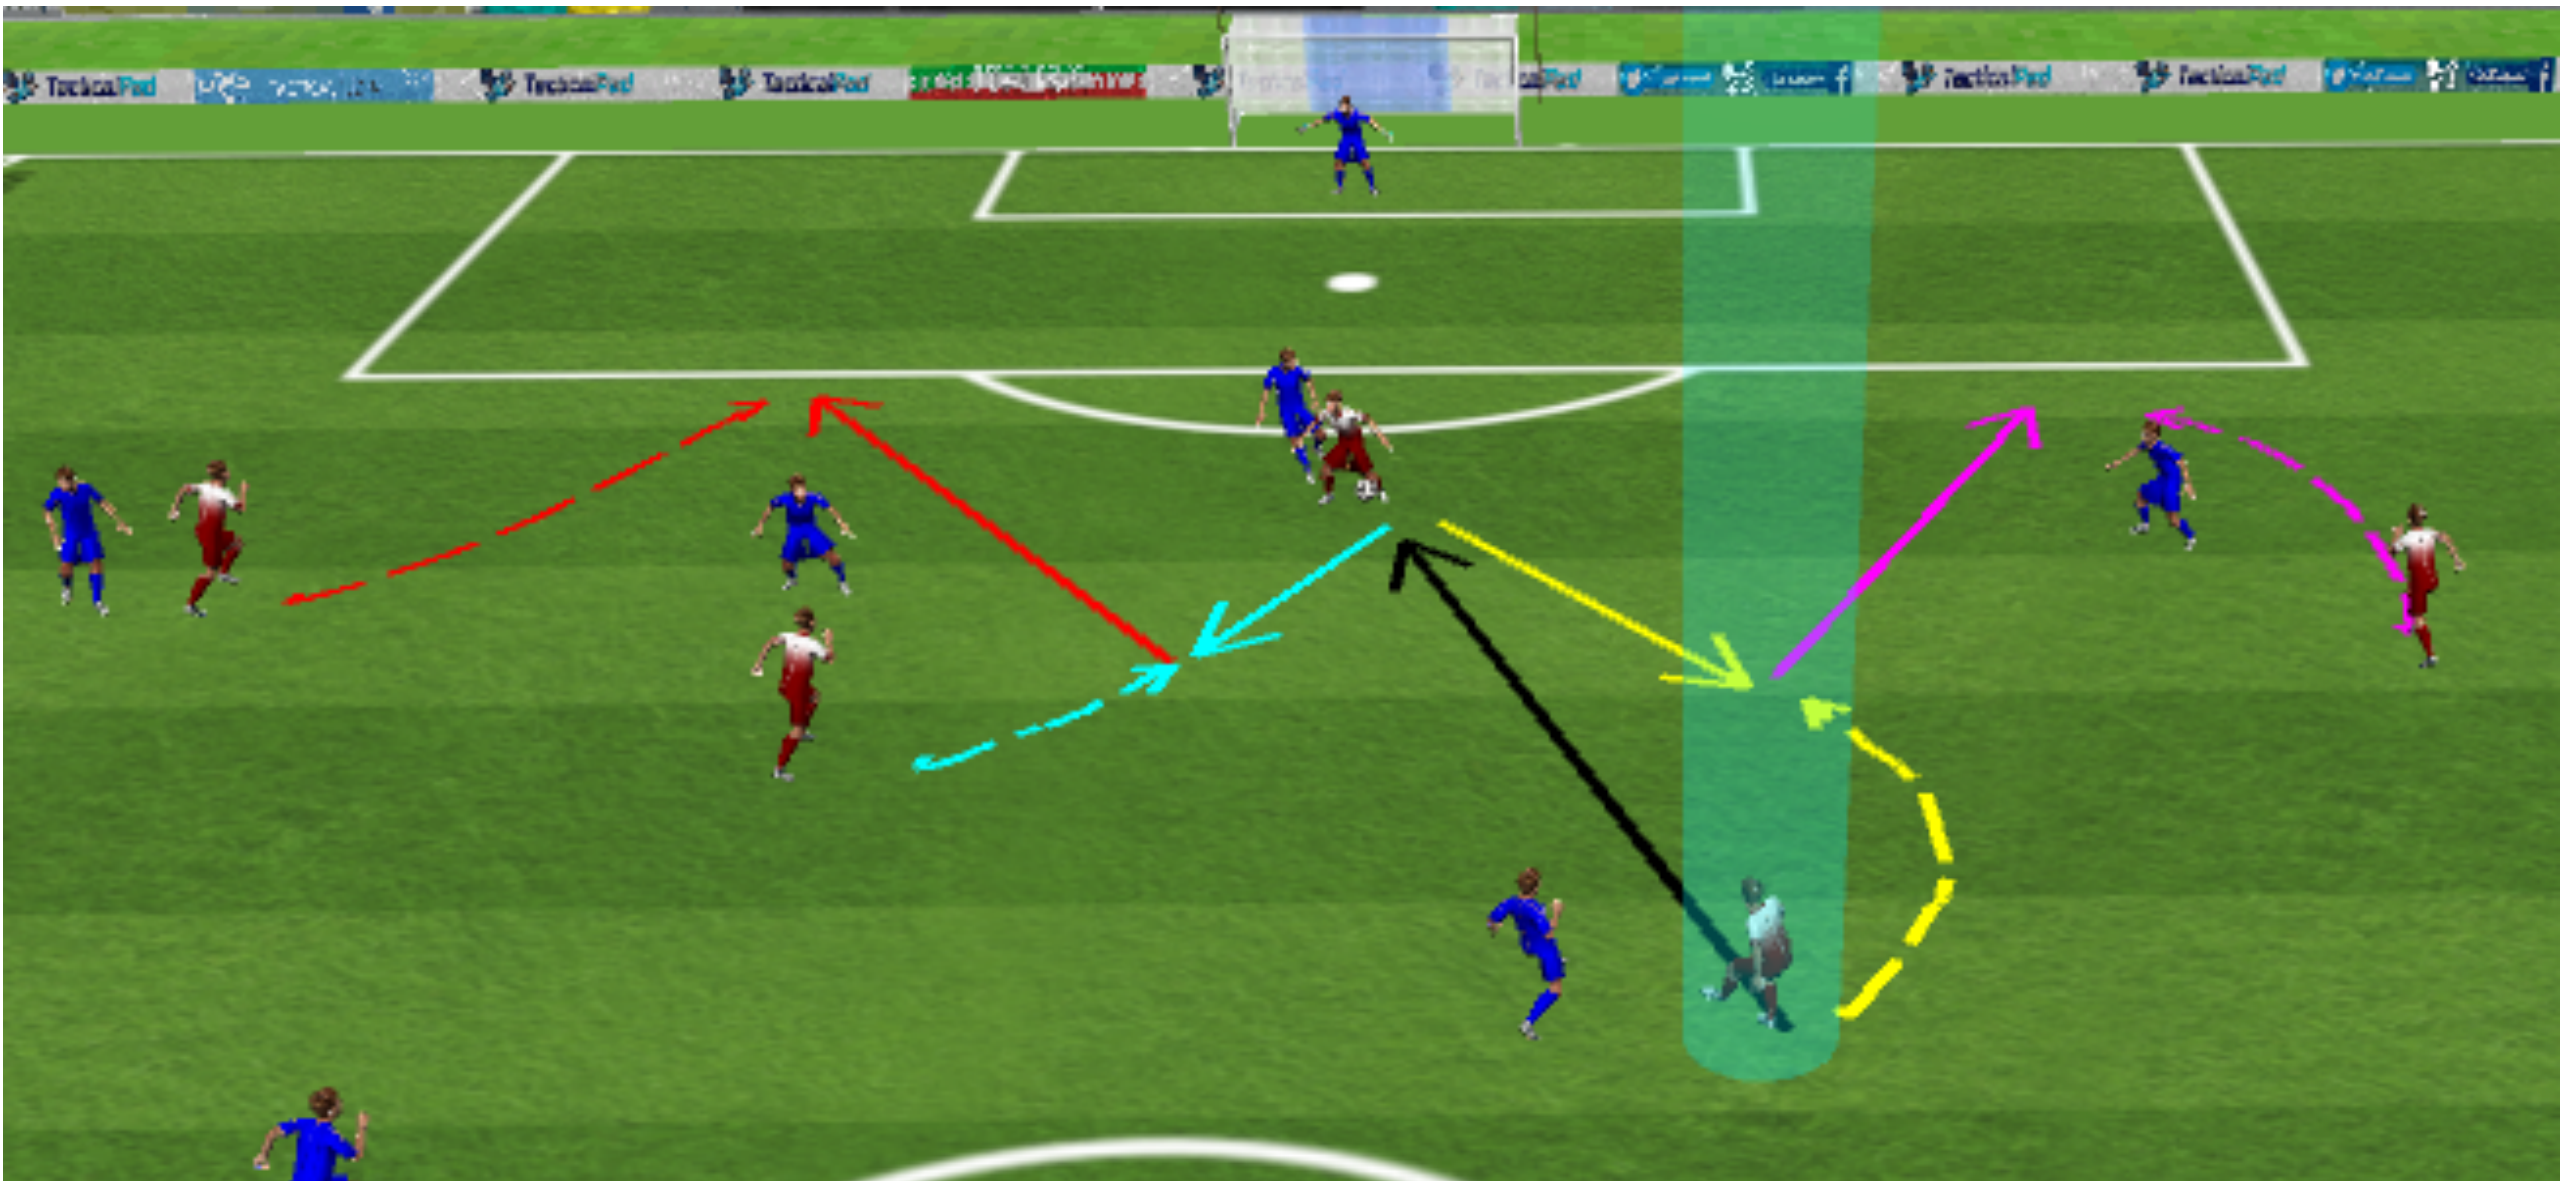

WE – PHASE 3>4: Playing off the #9 (back-to-goal)

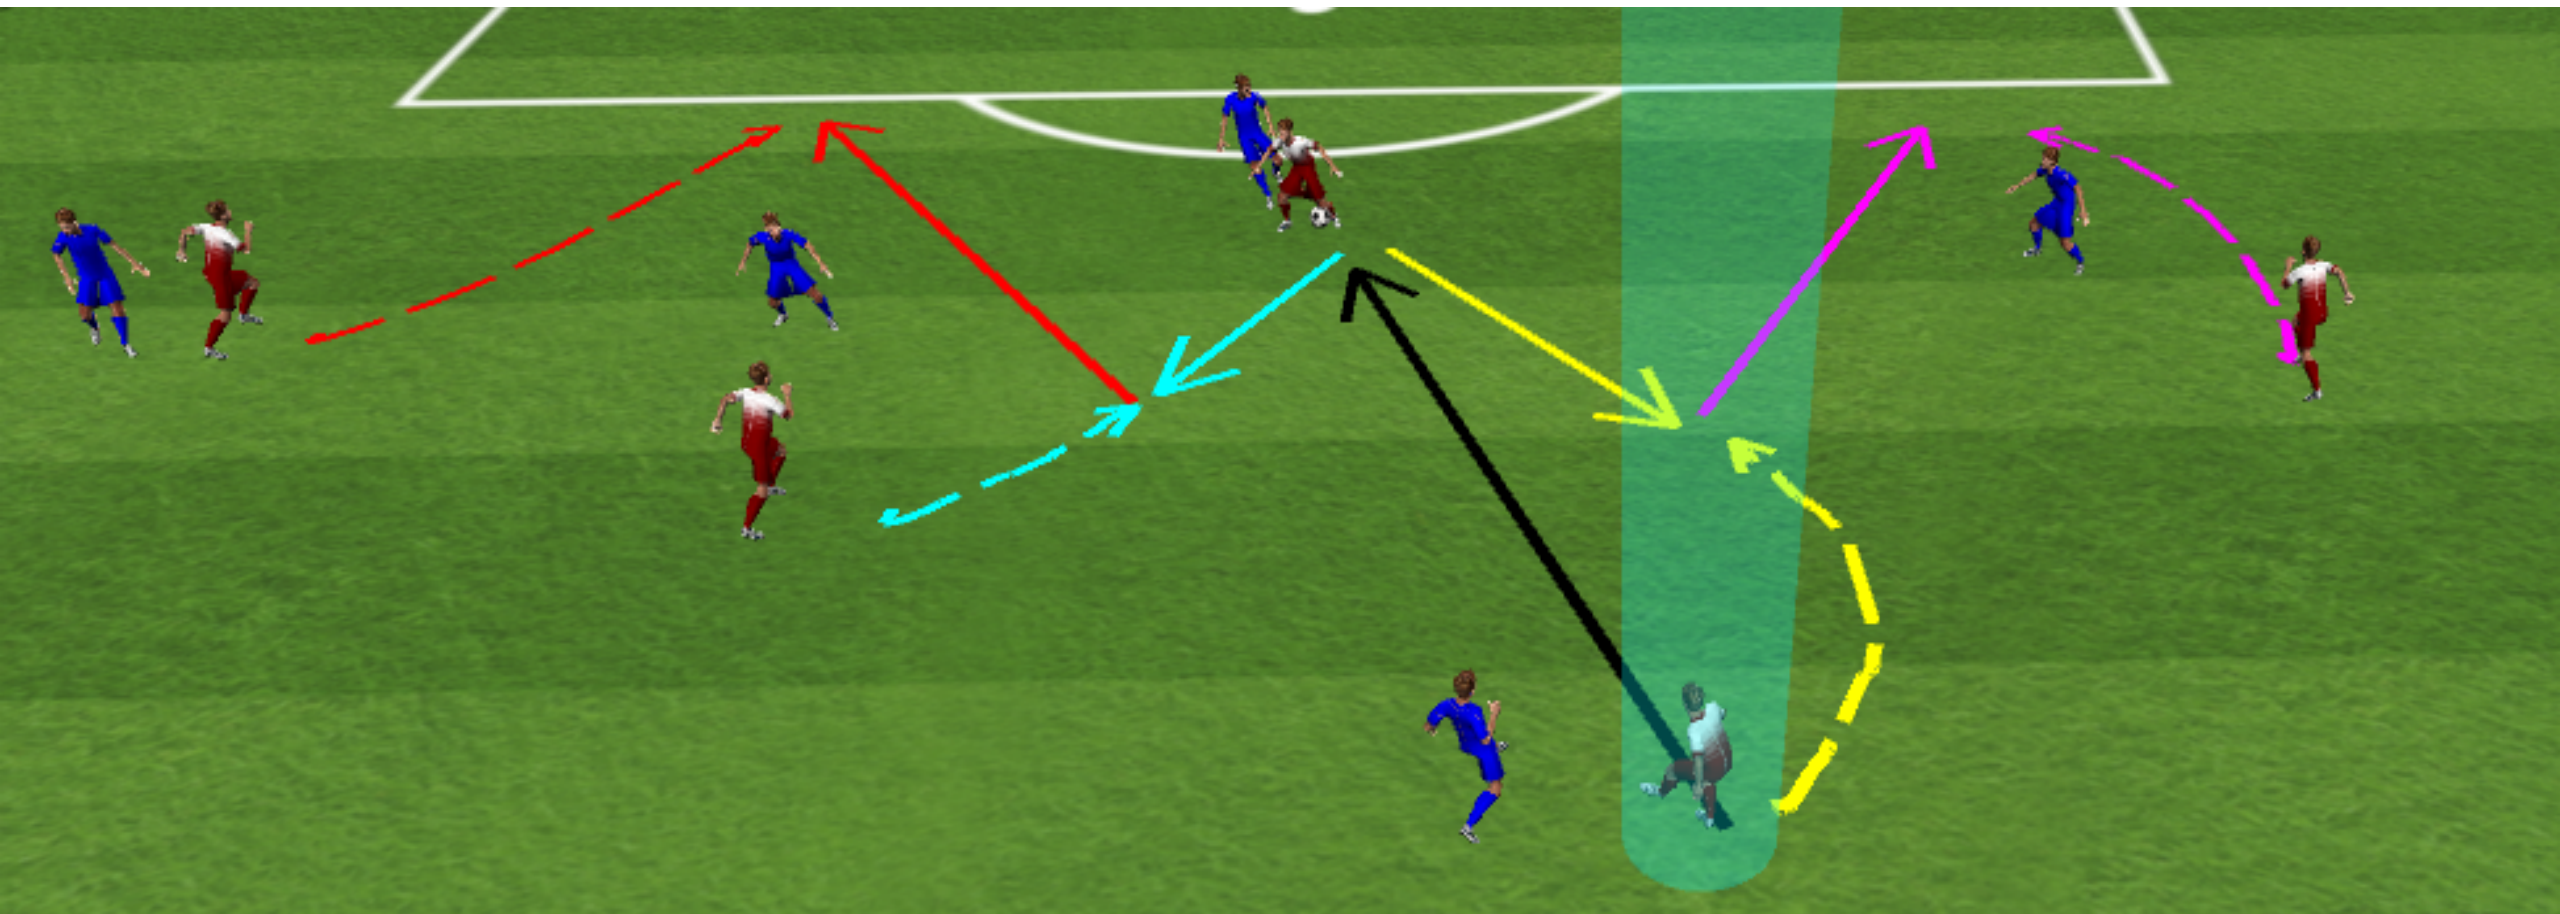

What choice would you make? Why is this the best option for this specific situation? What are your expectations for how the play will develop after delivering your pass? Discuss possible 3rd player movements.

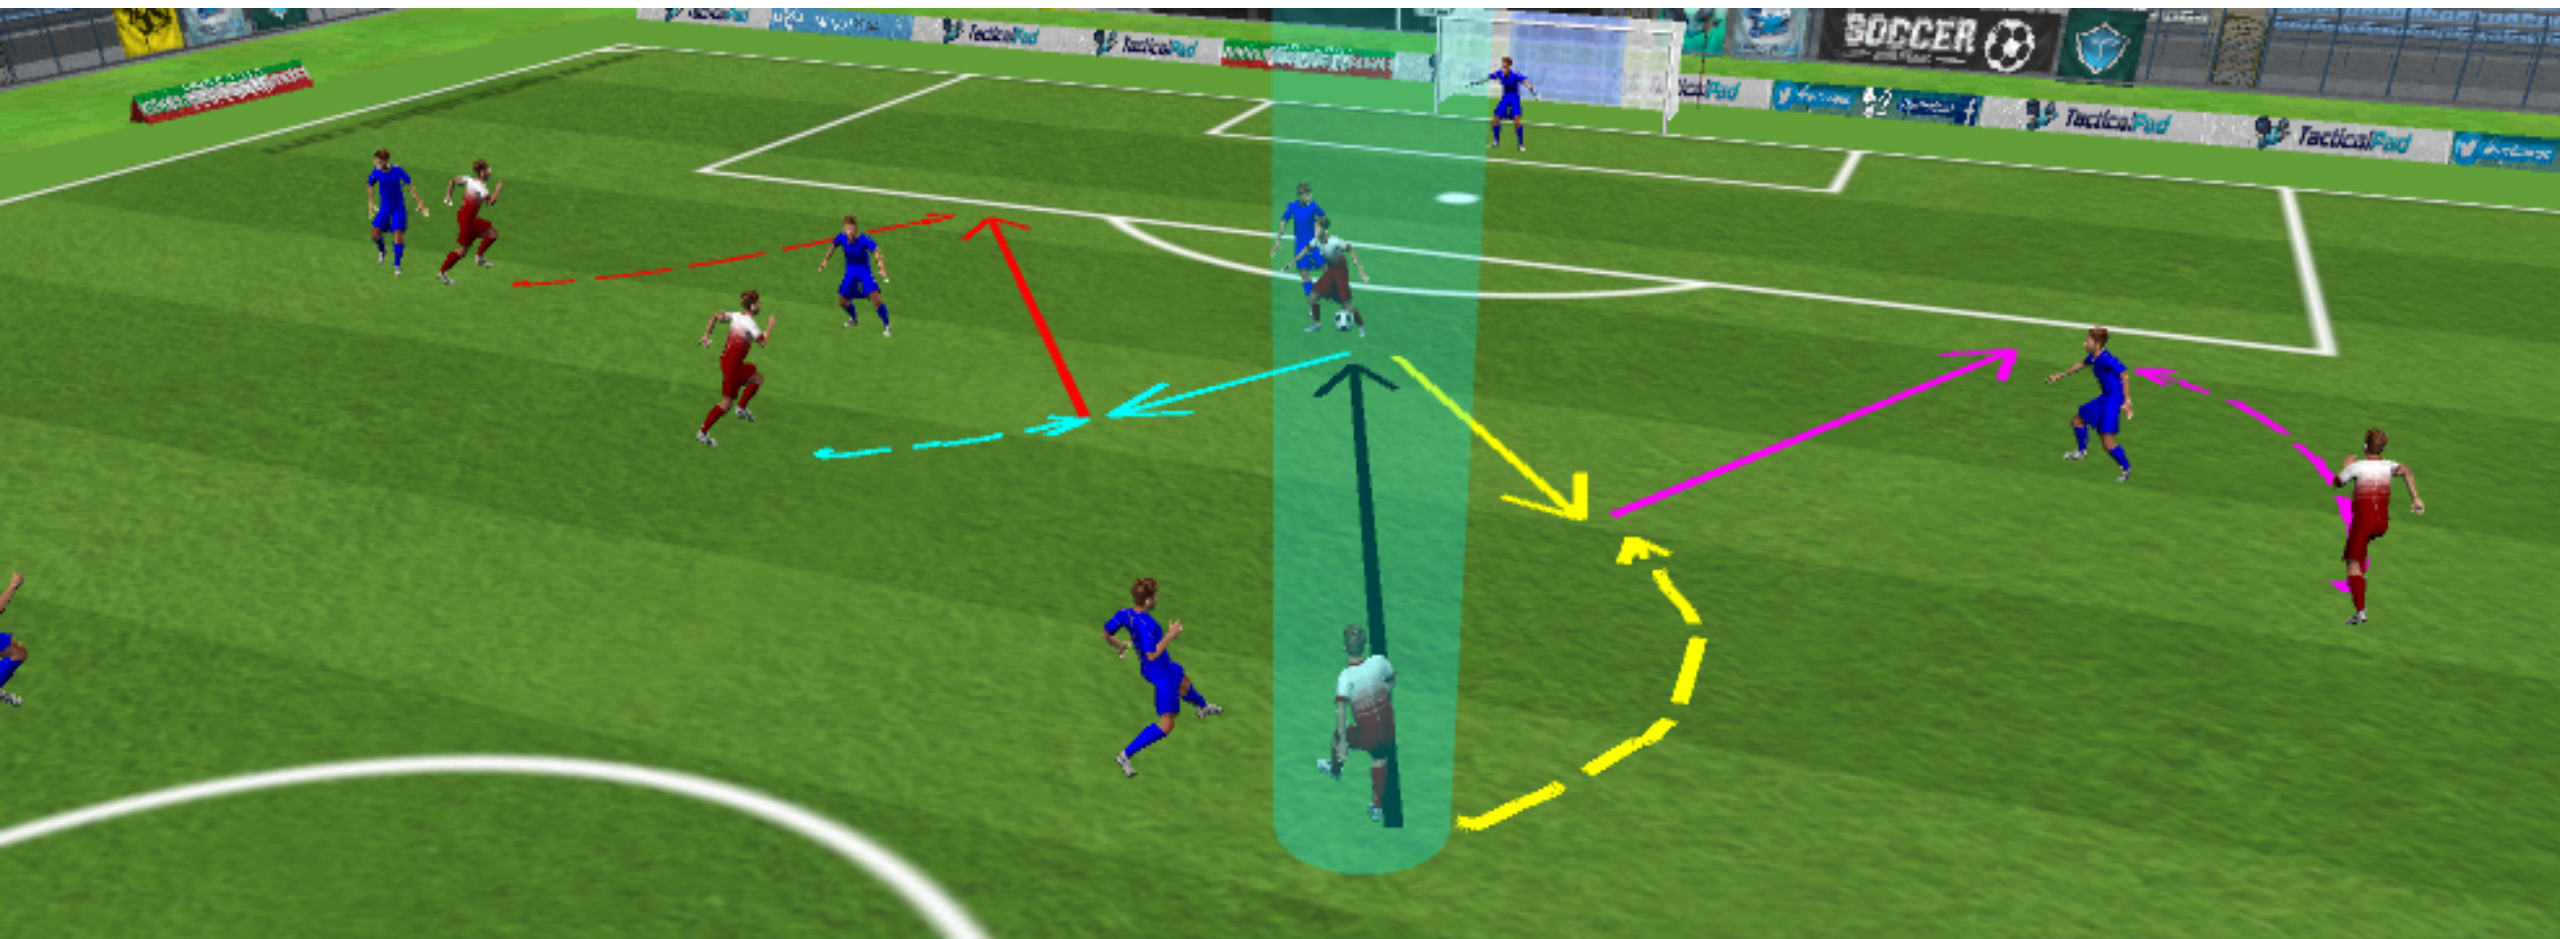

Yellow: return ball to CM who passed forward

Aqua: lay the ball off to the more advanced CM

Pink and Red: prepare pass for a 3rd player combo

SCENARIO - B

WE - PHASE 3>4: Decision making in the box

What choice would you make? Why is this the best option for this specific situation? What are your expectations for how the play will develop after delivering your pass? Discuss possible 3rd player movements.

Yellow: attack near post on the dribble

Pink: shoot

Aqua: turn and play backward

Blue: back-heel pass to the underlap run

SCENARIO - C

WE - PHASE 3>4

Getting to goal from wide location

What choice would you make? Why is this the best option for this specific situation? What weight and angle of pass would you use to prepare the play? Discuss the defenders positioning in your decision making process.

Blue - Black: play wall pass and advance the team centrally

Blue - Pink: play wide on the ball-side

Blue - Yellow: prepare the ball for a penetrating pass to the CF #9

Game Scenario Analysis

Which scenario did you select for this week's analysis and why?
Please explain why the solution you've selected offers the most productive opportunity for success in this given MOMENT. Analyze everything within the image before you explain your answer.
Observing the specific details of the scenario, what do you notice about body shape of the attacking players? Are there any visual cues that offer information? Could a player be positioned differently or making a different movement other than the one offered in the diagram?
Observing the specific details of the Defensive team, are they balanced and positioned well to successfully deny a goal scoring opportunity or forward play? Could they be positioned to make this a safer situation for their team?
