

COLORADO COMPETITIVE YOUTH HOCKEY LEAGUE

For Immediate Release,

The Colorado Competitive Youth Hockey League (CCYHL) acknowledges the tough times we are all going through during this pandemic. We also understand that it is important to find ways to allow our young athletes to continue to play the sport they love.

We have all been taking precautionary steps to provide the safest environments possible for our players to get back to playing hockey. As we continue to monitor all updates from state and local governments, there is the matter that the facilities used by the organizations within the CCYHL do not follow the same guidelines as it pertains to return to play protocols. For this reason, and to be transparent about the potential challenges we will face as we phase into playing games again, we felt it necessary advise all participants that there will be times of frustration and inconsistencies but to please be patient, courteous and kind as this is not easy for any of us.

The league is working together to provide information to its members about the requirements that all teams must follow when they are a visitor in a facility. These requirements will not be negotiable but will be each facilities obligation to adhere to the protocols they have in place as set forth by their leadership and the state and local government, to keep their doors open and allow us the opportunity to be visitors in their building.

More information will be communicated to the Directors of each club should any questions or concerns arise. Again, we are making the best out of an unfortunate situation and we want to get our kids on the ice competing again. This is going to take us all to be champions throughout these uncertain times we all face.
