To Whom It May Concern:

The C2 Attack Volleyball Club is writing to request your understanding and support regarding the academic commitments of our student-athletes. Our organization operates a national-level travel volleyball program that provides exceptional athletic opportunities to our members.

You are receiving this correspondence because a student under your instruction is a valued member of the C2 Attack Volleyball Club. Due to the demanding nature of our travel schedule, our athletes are required to participate in events held outside of their local area. This often necessitates early departures and/or delayed returns, resulting in potential absences from school.

We respectfully request that you consider granting these student-athletes academic flexibility and excused absences when travel schedules conflict with their attendance. We understand the importance of academic rigor and assure you that our athletes and their families are committed to maintaining high academic standards alongside their athletic pursuits.

These student-athletes are dedicated individuals who strive for excellence both on and off the court. Their parents are equally committed to providing them with opportunities for academic and athletic development, recognizing the importance of both in their future college journeys.

We appreciate your consideration of this request and your support in enabling these student-athletes to pursue their athletic aspirations while maintaining their academic responsibilities.

Sincerely,
 The C2 Attack Volleyball Club
