

NKJV is a program that has received national recognition since 1983. NKJV teams participate in National events for high exposure for athletes looking to aspire to play at the collegiate level. All NKJV travel teams will compete at National level tournaments with USA volleyball and the JVA. There will be non-travel options available as well. For more information about the NKJV organization, training, clinics and tryouts, please visit the NKJV website.

NKJV Coaching Staff: Many NKJV Coaches have over 20 years coaching experience. NKJV coaches continue coaching education through Impact Training, Cap Training, Art of Coaching Seminars, and JVA Webinars.

History: It's no accident that nearly every active coach at the club or high school level in our area has ties to NKJV. We have helped educate and train more players and coaches than any other organization in the Tristate. We challenge you to find an organization who has placed its imprint on the Tristate volleyball community more than NKJV. It's true. We set the standards to which all others aspire.

Training: All NKJV teams will practice 2-3 times per week. With weekly positional practices, players can experience up to 4 days of court time from December to June each season. Volleyball is a team sport, but it all starts with training, and we have some of the finest coaches in the Midwest heading up our rosters. NKJV employs coaches with experience that have coached at the National level, High School level and Grade School level. Fundamental training is extremely important for future success.

Transparency: You will find more history, tradition and a wealth of information on our website. A good example of this would be the try-out process. Not only do we list the players who made our team by number on our website, but we also show when a player has committed. Other clubs either send you private emails or letters, and the information trail ends with your declination or commitment. Virtually everything you could want to know about our organization is available on our website or a phone call or email away. We're proud of Who, and more importantly, What we are. We are the ACES! NKJV is FAMILY.

Coaches: The average tenure of our Elite coaches is 25 years. The average tenure of the NKJV staff is 10 years. Experience counts!
